Team Plans for Safely getting back to Church Services again

Following this week's announcement from the Prime Minister and the Roadmap to easing out of lockdown, a small group from Team Council met to discuss how we might safely get back to restarting Church services again. We discussed all the needs and issues about safety and the on-going risks from coronavirus. We also acknowledged the sadness that many are feeling in being unable to gather together for prayer and worship, apart from online.

Like the Government's '4 Tests' for easing lockdown, we are working with necessary criteria to ensure covid-secure church services. It is our aim and our hope to plan for church services for Easter Day on April 4th. Guided by God, we will proceed with caution and with hope. We will keep you informed and updated about details in the coming weeks.

With thanks for your continued support and prayers during this challenging time
From the Clergy team and Team Council group members working on your behalf
